Farmerville

Foreword

The Pine Knot staff of 1962 presents this issue of the Pine Knot with earnest hopes that it will give you many hours of pleasure in the years to come as you look back and relive all the pleasant times you had at F. H. S.

The staff is greatly appreciative of the financial help given us by the businessmen of Our Town and of the patient assistance of our sponsors and splendid cooperation of the faculty. Without them there would have been no yearbook.

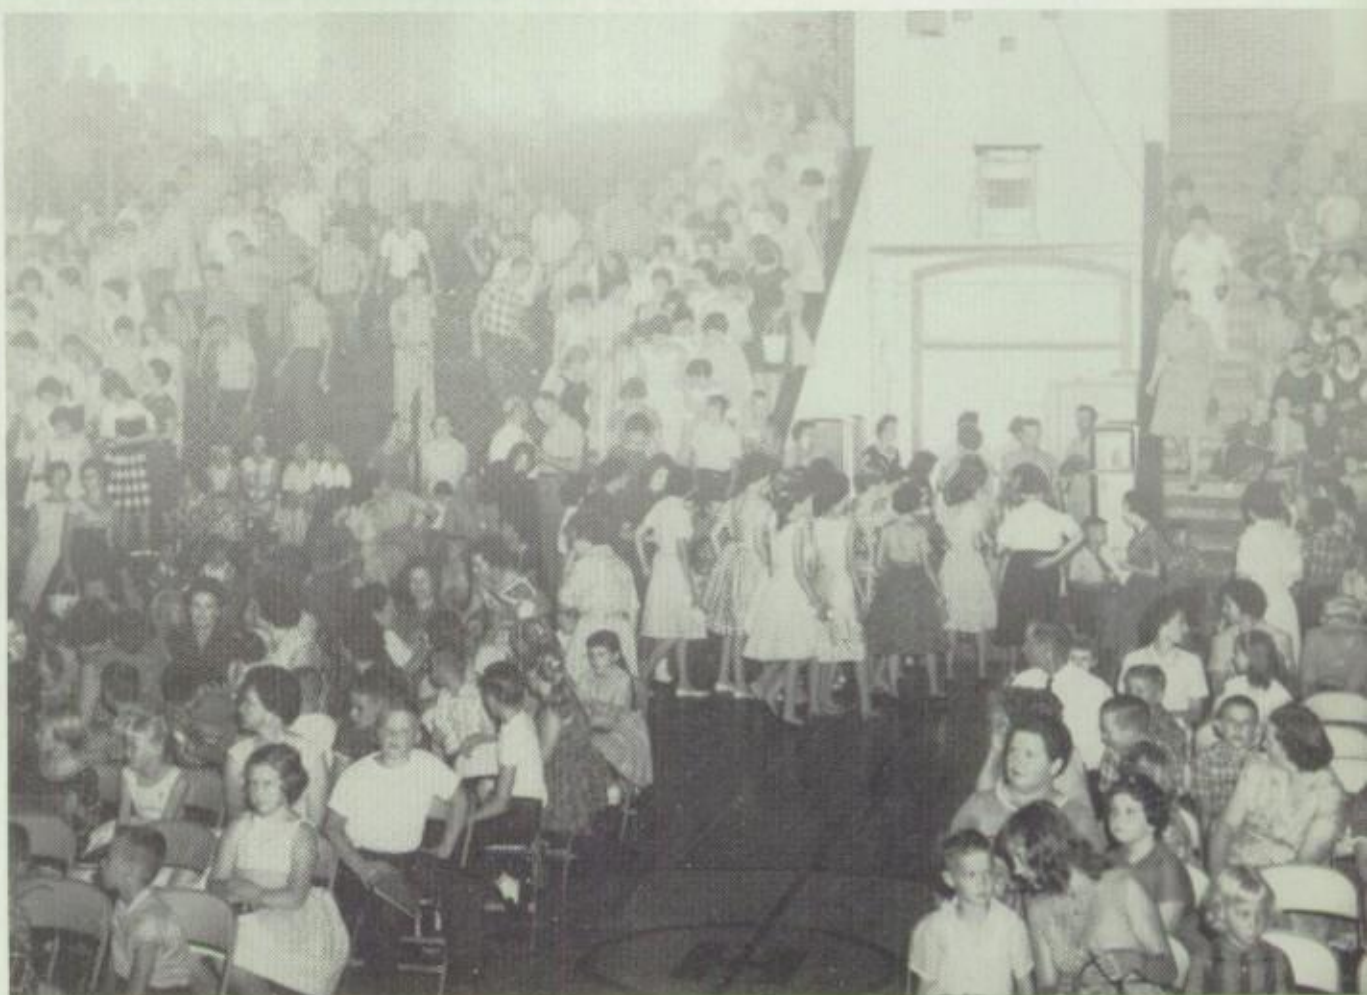

An aerial photograph of a town, showing a mix of residential houses, commercial buildings, and industrial structures. A large, light-colored building with a flat roof is prominent in the center-left. To its right, there are several smaller buildings and parking lots. The town is surrounded by dense trees and vegetation, particularly in the upper and right portions of the image. The overall scene depicts a typical suburban or small-town landscape.

Our Town

Dedication

In their varied ways, they have loved and supported Farmerville High School through many years. They have encouraged us by giving us the best possible opportunity to grow intellectually, socially, and spiritually. Without their whole-hearted assistance, we would be deprived of many worthwhile extra-curricular activities.

They serve both professionally and nonprofessionally to make our town a better place in which to live. For this we are deeply grateful.

We of the 1962 Pine Knot Staff affectionately dedicate this publication of the yearbook to these friendly people, the citizens of Farmerville, Louisiana--OUR TOWN.

W. D. Clinton — High School

In the years to come, we students of Farmerville High School will surely look back with grateful hearts to Mr. W. D. Clinton and Mr. Horace Nolan for their untiring devotion to us and to our educational problems. They have given us every opportunity to better ourselves through the many phases of education offered us at Farmerville High School. Certainly our future success will be a result of the keen interest and wisdom that these men have shown in guiding us.

While studying American literature, these junior English students present the play "Our Town" by Thornton Wilder. Larry Dumas acts as narrator, with Pat Drummond, Jimmy Spurlock, Jimmy Cranford, Barbara McIntosh, Wayne Upshaw, and Margie Halley portraying the characters. Many such activities are performed by the English students during the year.

Books Bring Both Knowledge and Pleasure

Sophomore English students enjoy presenting their book reports in various ways. Here, they are giving them via panel discussion. This also gives the students valuable practice in public speaking. The students presenting this particular panel discussion are Atly Brasher, Jackie Phillips, Barry Wade, Judy Tucker, and Danny Everett.

The library is an invaluable aid to students and teachers alike. These students, under the close supervision of Mrs. Wade, are making good use of their study hall.

The library is also open at recess for those who wish to have extra time for study.

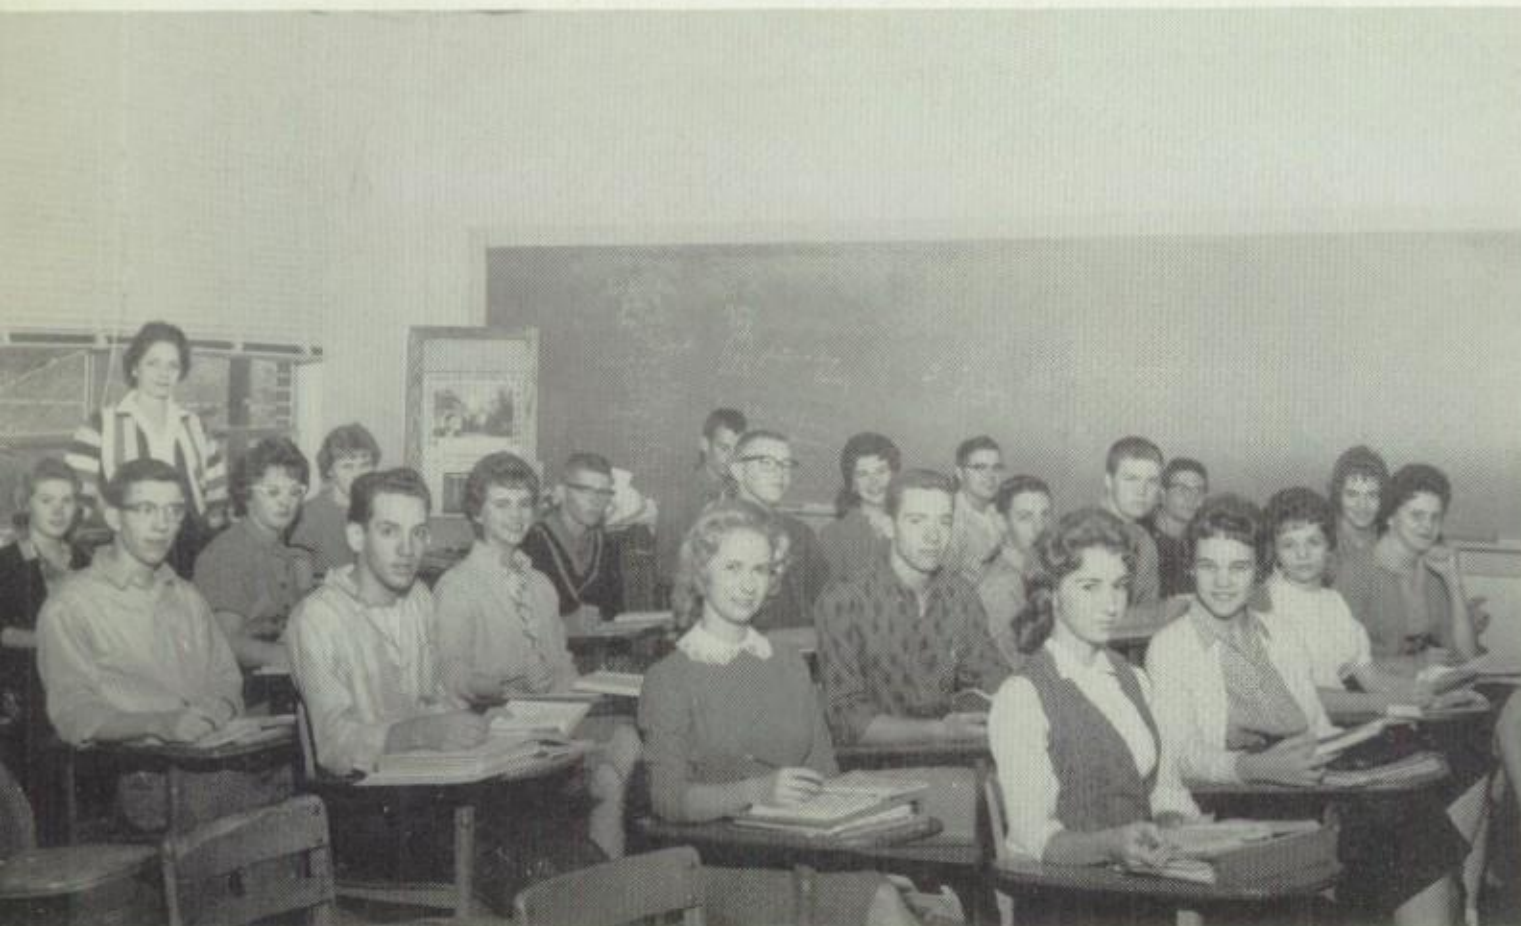

The Home Living class is a favorite one of seniors. This class project, a mock wedding, is being done for the first time by this class. All of the students greatly enjoyed the event and gained important knowledge for the future.

Home Living and Home Economics Build Homemakers

Under Mrs. Stewart's direction, her freshman Home Economics class is learning to sew. The department is very fortunate in having an ample number of machines on which the students may practice their newly-learned skills.

Science and Math —

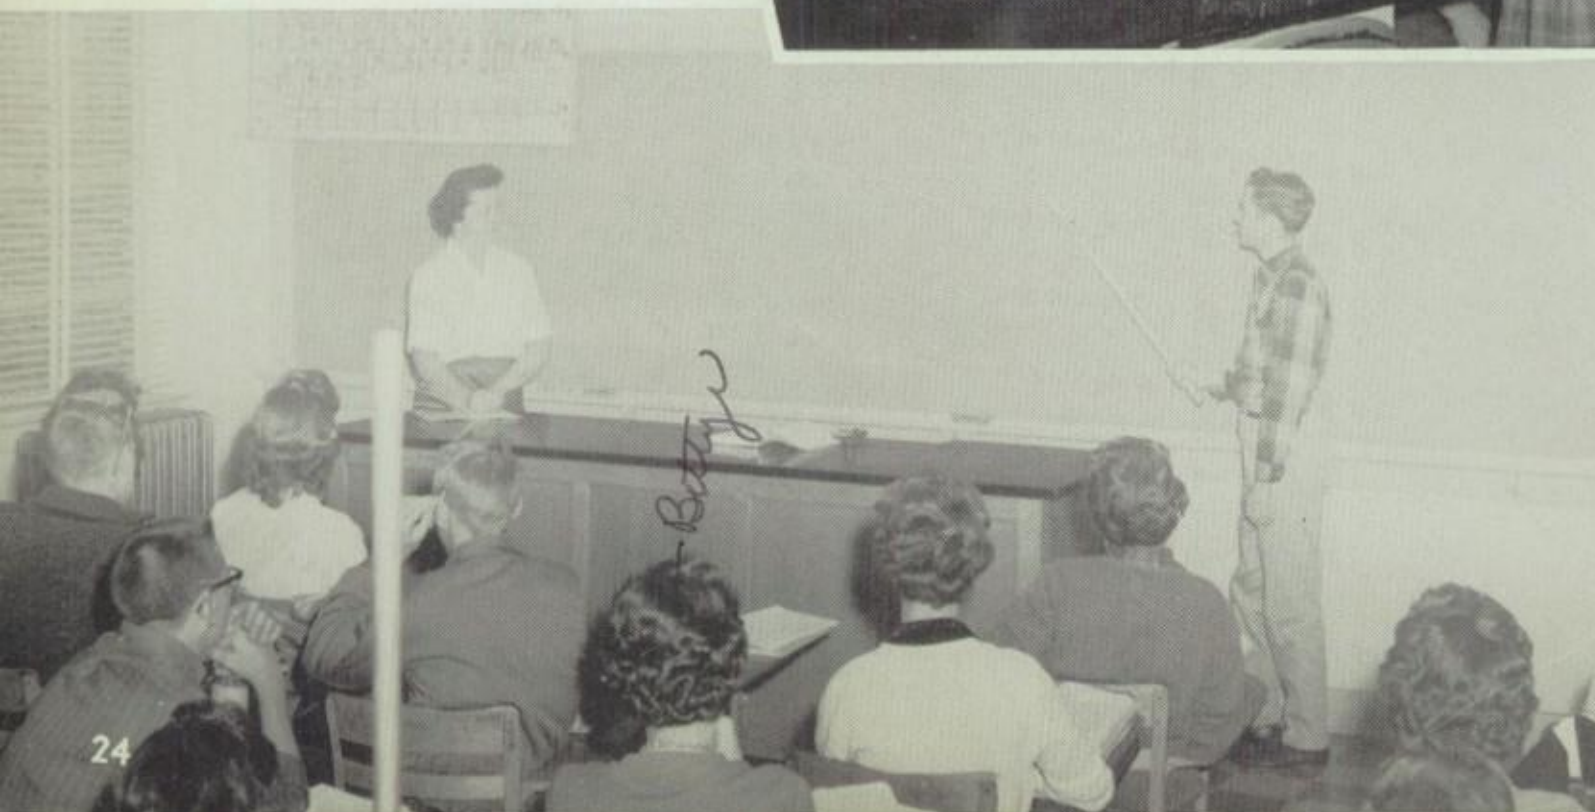

Mrs. Miller's senior math class seems to be very busy with their problems. This math is very vital to seniors who plan to enter college, as it is a review of all the basic principles of math. It is also helpful because of its application to mathematics in everyday living.

The Tools of Tomorrow's Leaders

An advanced subject that is interesting to science students is that of physics. Sue Spears and Eddie Albritton are demonstrating an experiment on heat expansion.

This course is open to seniors only.

Both juniors and seniors enroll in chemistry.

Social Studies

Commerce

For students interested in business, book-keeping is a very important subject. These students are busy working on their projects for the six weeks. The commerce department also includes typing and general business classes.

Humanity at Work and Study

"Communism vs. Americanism." This was the theme for the first six weeks of American history required by Louisiana law. Noel Daniels is giving the class a speech on the evils of Communism.

Each year more students attend classes at the trade school. Kenneth Auger, Larry Dumas, and Jerry Hollis are learning the skill of repairing an automobile engine. The trade school also has a business education department that teaches business machines, shorthand, bookkeeping.

Band

The Road of Opportunity Leads to Culture and Learning

Something new in the way of physical education classes at Farmerville High School is Driver's Education, taught by Mr. Fred Wayne Futch. This is a very valuable course for high school students as it enables them to learn to drive safely. Anne Odom is waiting her turn as Pam Tucker finishes her lesson at the wheel.

Mr. Ingram Ballard and Mr. Frank Wilson are shown presenting the John Philip Sousa band award to Mitzi Baughman for her outstanding achievements in band.

Spring '61 Brings Varied Activities

The arrival of the '61 Pine Knot brings shrieks of joy to the students of F.H.S. as they relive the past year's activities.

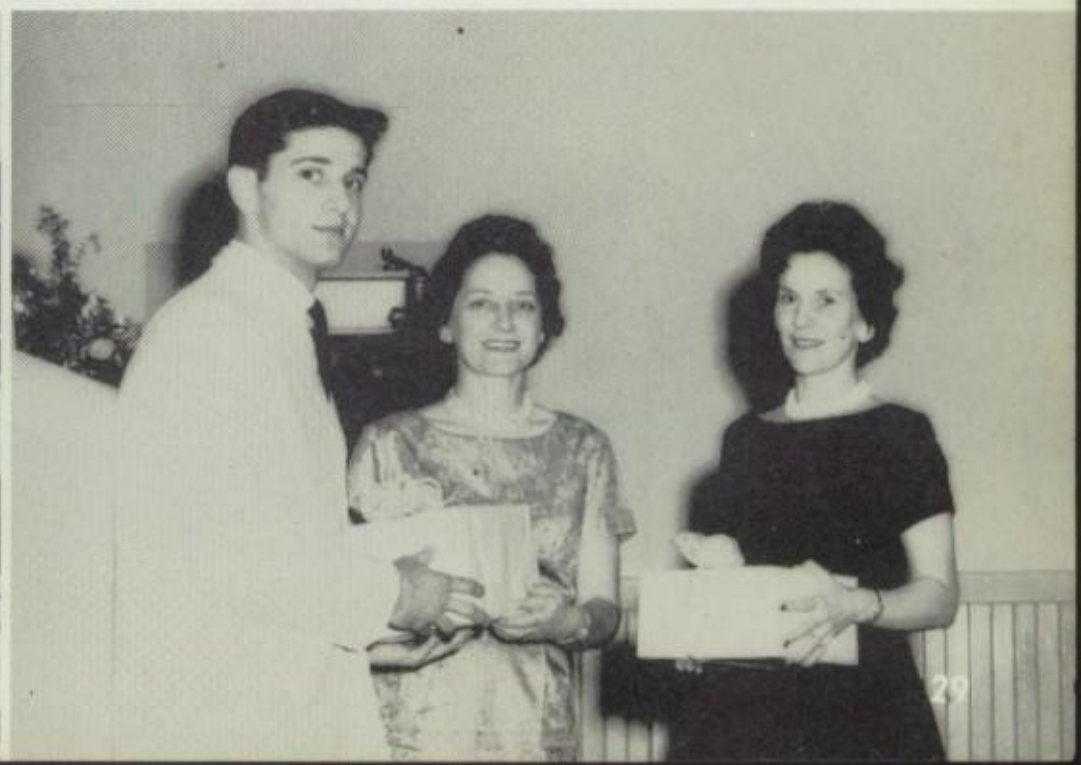

The theme of the 1961 Junior-Senior Banquet was "Stairway to the Stars." The floral arrangements and gay pastel dresses transformed the cafeteria into a spring garden. A group of junior girls presented an entertaining medley as they strolled among the tables.

Junior-Senior Banquet

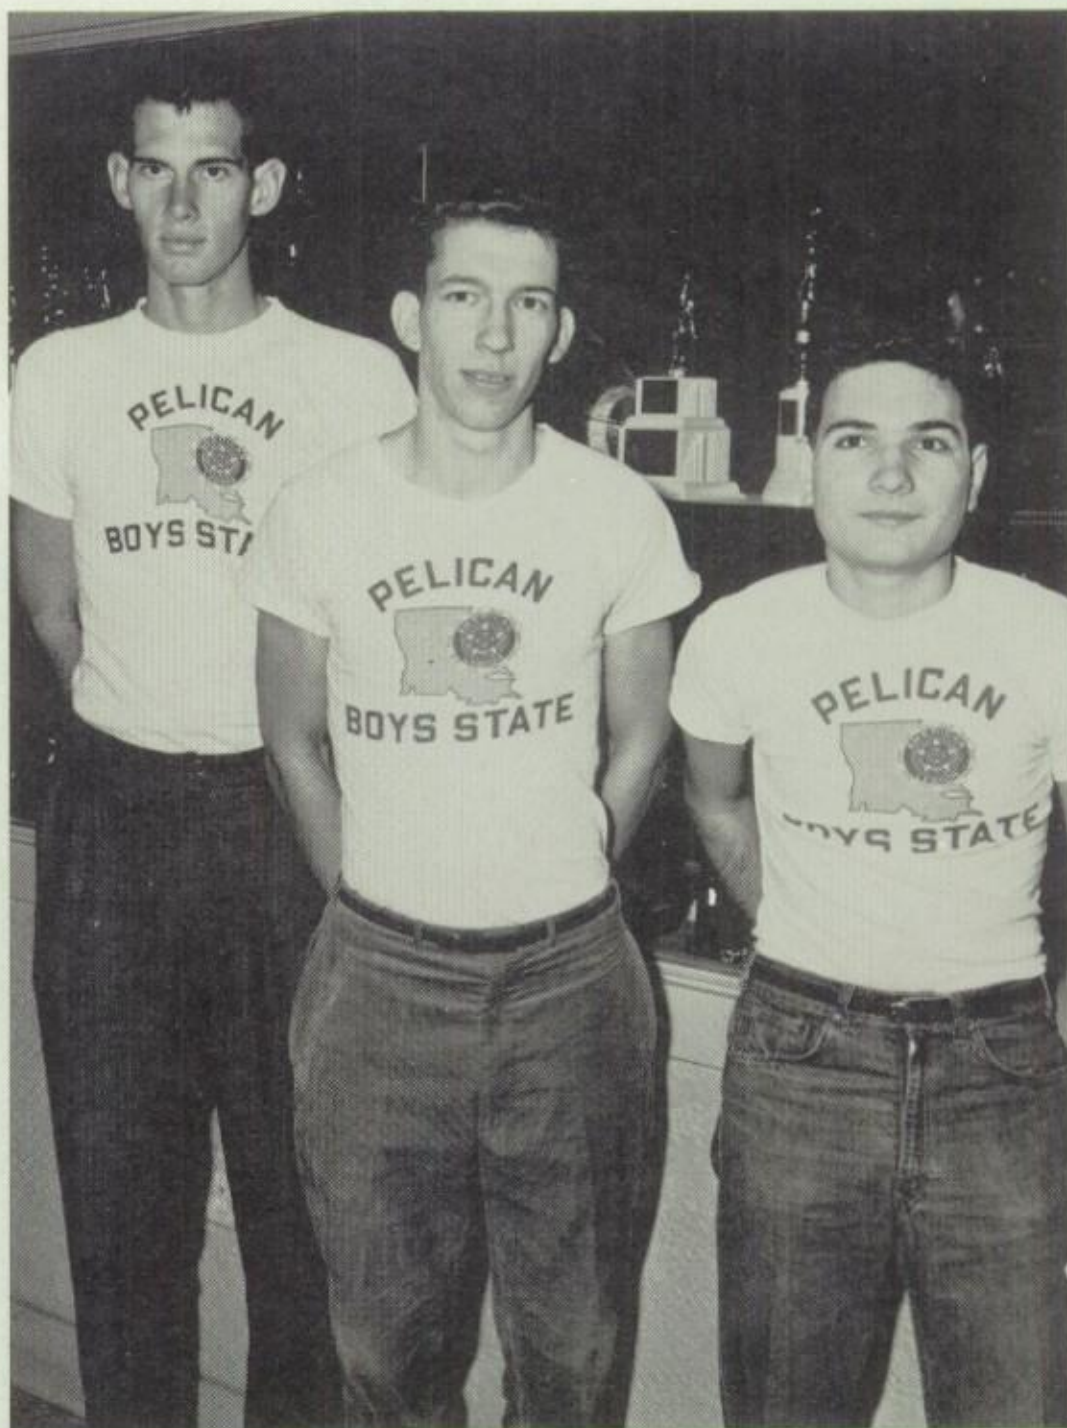

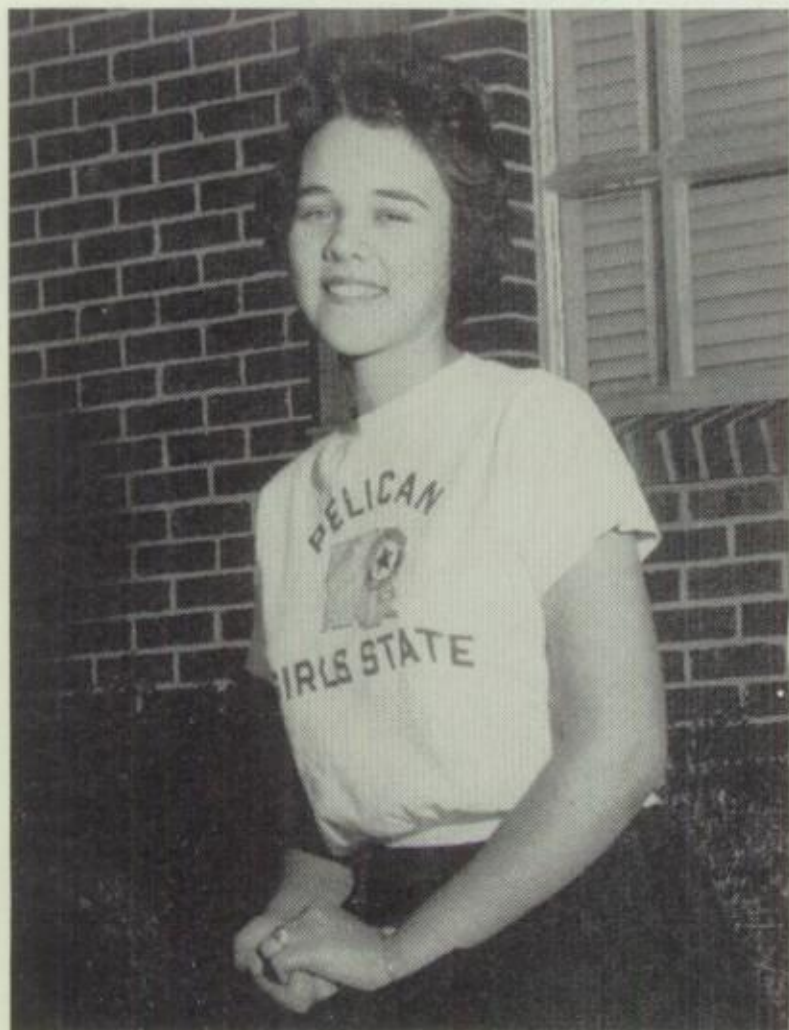

Eating the delicious meal by soft candlelight enhanced the beauty of the festive occasion for the gaily attired guests.

John Lloyd Albritton presents gifts to Mrs. Lillian Miller and Mrs. Marjorie Wade, PINE KNOT sponsors, in appreciation for their untiring aid to the staff members.

Summer Activities

Those attending Pelican State this past summer were Judy Wisinger, Curtis Allen, James Barron, and Wilton Nolan. Basis of selection was character, courage, honesty, leadership, scholastic ability, and cooperativeness.

Jerry Allen, Judy Armor, Beth Hicks, and Eddie Albritton were delegates to Leadership Conference at L.S.U. Eddie was in recreation and Judy, Beth, and Jerry in journalism.

Jamboree Queen

Judy Armor

Miss Judy Armor was selected by the Farmerville High School varsity football team to be the beauty queen at Ruston Lions Club's football jamboree.

The Farmers board their chartered bus as they prepared to leave for the Coushatta game.

Fun and Excitement

The first day of school brought students and parents to the opening assembly where Principal David Clinton outlined the year's activities.

An outdoor pep rally gave the Farmers a rousing send off before they boarded a chartered bus for the Coughatta game.

The F.H.S. cheerleaders promote school spirit as the Bernice Bear burns in effigy.

Miss Flame of 1961, Sue Elkins, the Pep Squad candidate, and Miss Spark, Sue Spears, the band candidate, watch intently as Billy Rich, Johnny Miller, and Noel Daniels, the co-captains, are being introduced for their pep-talk to the enthusiastic supporters.

Winning first place in the sixth grade's magazine contest was Doug Phillips. Peggy Phillips, who won second place, is also pictured.

PLOW subscription sales contest winners were Sue Elkins, third; Bessie Pace, first; and Wilton Nolan, second.

"Light the Way to True Americanism" was the theme for Farmerville High School's exhibit in the Union Parish Fair. Home and family life, religion, and education were stressed as important factors in a democratic society such as ours.

Queen Syble Gilbert displays a sparkling smile and a friendly wave to the crowd as she rides in the Homecoming Parade.

Afternoon

ment and Anticipation

"Chain the Bulldogs" was the theme of the F.H.A.'s prize winning float in the one-half ton truck division. Victor Freeman is shown representing a mighty farmer.
